Ed's Life Vision

"Assisting others discover their unique talents and gifts and to empower them to live their life vision each and every day."

As a single dad and a recovering alcoholic, I've seen a lot of programs for single moms but not much available for single dads. LMI / Legacy Partners has helped me to see things about myself and my son that I would have never realized without their help. I can also see how I can take my experiences in being a recovering alcoholic and a single dad and take those stories and lessons around the world. Who would have ever dreamed that was possible.

How Life Masteries Changed My Thinking ~

- Personal Ownership ~ I can own my own successful company and control my future.
- Time Management ~ I can now balance owning my company as well as being a dad for my son.
- Helping Others ~ I'm excited to work with LMI / Legacy Partners to help reach into the lives of young people.

Ed is certified in ~

- Building and running BOS -- Business Operating Systems and Executive Coaching.
- Author & Speaker - Sharing my gifts / story around the world and helping others to do so as well.

How Can You Assist Ed / Others ~

- Refer business owners, leaders, and sales professionals who would like to have more time personally, and grow their business.
- Make a contribution so other Single Parents have the opportunity to be trained and mentored to start their own successful companies.
